

Christian McNeill & Sea Monsters: Everything's Up For Grabs

Christian McNeill & Sea Monsters established themselves in Boston with a three-year long Sunday night residency at the Precinct in Somerville, MA. Sea Monsters is an incredible collective of some of Boston's best musician's – Duke Levine, Tim Gearan, Jesse Dee, Lyle Brewer, Dwight & Nicole – who would gather every Sunday to play McNeill's songs. This debut marks the first studio album from McNeill (Boston Music Award winner - Best Male Vocalist in 2011 & 2012) in ten years since his last record with Hybrasil – The Kicker. The single off of the new record, "Zero" has already garnered great reviews, as well as heavy rotation Little Steven's Underground Garage where it was featured as "Coolest Song in the World."

"Now I remember why Hybrasil (McNeill's former band) was such a big deal. In today's musical climate where it's not really cool for rock singers to have big beautiful voices, McNeill's startles you." – The Boston Globe

"The songs are solid and I think the big-band setting is just perfect for him, lets him really rip vocally and have a band that matches his thunder." – Brett Milano, The Sound of Our Town

"ZERO" and "I Will Always Be Your Friend" in heavy rotation on Little Steven's Underground Garage on Sirius/XM.
